Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment received on March 16, 2009 has been fully considered and entered, but the arguments are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

NOTE: The Terminal Disclaimer filed on March 16, 2009 has been acknowledged by the examiner. The disclaimer will be processed by the office, and the approval or disapproval will be forthcoming in the next communication.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 1-6 and 8-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as not falling within one of the four categories of inventions.

With respect to claims 1, 15 and 24, Supreme Court precedent and recent Federal Circuit decision indicate that a statutory "process" under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to another statutory category (such as a particular apparatus), or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing. While the instant claim recites a series of steps or acts to be performed, the claim neither transform underlying subject matter nor is positively tied to another statutory category that accomplishes the claimed method steps, and therefore does not qualify as a statutory process.

For example in claim 1, the method of detecting still pixels in a video stream including steps of defining, performing, calculating and comparing is of sufficient breadth that it would be reasonably interpreted as a series of steps completely performed mentally, verbally or without a machine.

The applicant has provided no explicit and deliberate definition of defining, performing, calculating and comparing to limit the steps for detecting the still pixels in the video stream.

For example in claim 15, the method of detecting still pixels in a video stream including steps of defining, calculating, summing and comparing is of sufficient breadth that it would be reasonably interpreted as a series of steps completely performed mentally, verbally or without a machine.

The applicant has provided no explicit and deliberate definition of defining, calculating, summing and comparing to limit the steps for detecting the still pixels in the video stream.

For example in claim 24, the method of detecting still pixels in a video stream including steps of defining, calculating, summing and comparing is of sufficient breadth that it would be reasonably interpreted as a series of steps completely performed mentally, verbally or without a machine.

The applicant has provided no explicit and deliberate definition of defining, calculating, summing and comparing to limit the steps for detecting the still pixels in the video stream.

Claims 2-6 and 8-31 are rejected by dependency to claims 1, 15 and 24 respectively.

4. Claims 32-33, 35-47 are allowed.
